

Be “IN” with your Personal Shopper

by Thierry Billard

Best New Trend: It is the era of personal coaches for us poor little lost souls in the big city. We need help with everything: health, work, and even our private lives. Former Elite and FAM fashion model Heather Price will accompany you to the most exclusive boutiques, whether you are man or woman, and advise you on the best buys that correspond exactly to your style, size, and budget. Heather can also make a complete inventory of your current wardrobe, showing you new combinations, eliminating the ill fitting or poorly chosen items, deciding if your clothes are in need of small tailoring, vintage or just entirely way out of anyone’s style. Following along the lines of personal image consulting is a service offered titled “The Parisian Makeover”, a half day of pampering in luxurious male/female specific salons to give you a look to match your personality and best suit your features. Finally if you don’t have time, Heather can even do your shopping for you. Ahhh how sweet life is with my personal shopper.
